

Gail Shields-Miller Voted Featured Design Professional for Summer, 2007 by Best Decorating Ideas

Mixing Ethnic and Tribal Objet d'Art for a Contemporary Look Set her Apart

New York, N.Y. August 2, 2007 – Chic and unique describe Gail Shields-Miller, principal of Shields & Company's decorating style. Her impressive portfolio contains image after image of eye-catching rooms. Based on her body of work and clever residential interiors, Best Decorating Ideas has voted Shields-Miller Featured Design Professional for Summer, 2007.

The staff at Best Decorating Ideas reviews the work of interior designers across the United States. Each season, they select one design professional based on innovative use of space, style, color, materials and that "extra something". Gail Shields-Miller's work is an outstanding example in every category. View Ms. Shields-Miller's designs at www.bestdecoratingideas.com/gailshields-miller.

According to a Best Decorating Ideas spokesperson, "Gail's work is delightfully whimsical. She embraces discovering, then bringing to life her clients' tastes and lifestyle requirements. This is exactly what we seek in our Featured Design Professional. Ms. Shields-Miller's penchant for utilizing an ethnic mix of pieces and authentic artifacts that bring great flair to a contemporary look, as is evidenced in her fabulous Venetian plastered entry with a chrome African antelope side by side with a circular Chinese box and 1920's French console".

About Best Decorating Ideas

People who have the gifts of vision can dramatically change the living environment and quality of life for their clients. Bringing the best of design and decorating professionals together with clients who value their work is the vision behind Best Decorating Ideas and its website: www.bestdecoratingideas.com. This website is a place where individuals can explore and consider portfolios of designers whom they may choose to work with. Designers already commissioned for projects can use this website as a working tool. It provides their clients virtual access to “private showrooms” created just for their project. Homeowners can log onto their “private showroom” to view general design approaches, styles of specific examples of furnishings that their designer has picked out just for them and loaded into the “showroom”. Best Decorating Ideas is dedicated to making the experience of the design process enjoyable and professional for designers and their clients.
